

Biography of Rachel Amos

Co-Founder and CEO of Open Gates Christian Organisation

Rachel Amos is a visionary leader, co-founder, and Chief Executive Officer of Open Gates Christian Organization, dedicated to combining academic excellence with compassionate service. With a steadfast commitment to transforming lives and a profound understanding of both psychology and Christian values, Rachel's leadership has propelled the organisation to remarkable heights.

Equipped with a solid academic foundation, Rachel holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Mathematics, which honed her analytical prowess and strategic thinking skills. Her academic journey continued with a Master of Science in Psychology, a testament to her dedication to comprehensively addressing the mental and emotional needs of those she serves.

Rachel's unyielding devotion to aiding individuals in their journey towards healing led her to attain a Level 2 Certificate in Counselling Skills, awarded by the esteemed Counselling & Psychotherapy Central Awarding Body (CPCAB). This credential, aligned with the European Qualifications Framework Level 3, underscores her commitment to providing empathetic guidance and support to those facing personal challenges.

Under Rachel's guidance, Open Gates Christian Organization has flourished. Her strategic insights and unwavering faith have steered the organization's initiatives towards unparalleled success. Rachel's leadership has not only fostered growth but also instilled a sense of purpose within the team, inspiring each member to embrace the organisation's core values of faith, compassion, integrity, and inclusivity.

Rachel's impact extends beyond her professional achievements. Her genuine concern for others, coupled with her dedication to helping those in need, resonates deeply with everyone she encounters. She is not just a leader, but a mentor, guide, and catalyst for positive change.

In her journey as a co-founder and CEO, Rachel Amos exemplifies the harmonious integration of academia, faith, and compassionate service. Her dedication to both personal growth and uplifting communities remains unwavering, making her an exceptional leader in the realm of Christian charity.