Professional Biography – Oluyemi Amos

Oluyemi Amos is an ACC-registered counsellor and a qualified counselling professional committed to supporting individuals, couples, children, adolescents, and families experiencing emotional, psychological, and relational challenges. She provides professional counselling support in a safe, compassionate, and confidential environment, helping clients navigate life's difficulties and work towards healing, resilience, and personal growth.

Oluyemi offers child and adolescent counselling, with a particular focus on school-related issues and developmental challenges. Her work promotes mental wellbeing, healthy relationships, and emotional stability through a client-centred and empathetic approach, tailored to the unique needs of each client.

With professional training and practical experience, Oluyemi delivers personalised counselling that supports clients in exploring their concerns, developing effective coping strategies, and achieving positive and lasting change. Her approach emphasises respect, emotional safety, and empowerment, enabling clients to build resilience and improve overall wellbeing.

In addition to her counselling practice, Oluyemi is the Co-Founder and Chief Executive Officer of OpenGates Christian Organisation, where she combines academic excellence with compassionate service. She holds a Bachelor of Science in Mathematics and a Master of Science in Psychology, reflecting a strong academic foundation that informs her analytical, ethical, and therapeutic practice.

Oluyemi's professional qualifications include a Level 2 Certificate in Counselling Skills (CPCAB), aligned with the European Qualifications Framework Level 3. She is committed to maintaining high professional standards and ongoing development within the counselling profession.
